"It is only by writing, not dreaming about it, that we develop our own style." – P.D. James

Dear Parents,

The school has always provided a platform for its students to excel not only nationally but internationally also. In this regard we are happy to announce that our school has chosen to participate in the National Young Author's Fair 2023, wherein NDTV and Disney International HD are the media partners. Avail the opportunity to become a renowned writer and reach new literary heights by registering on the link shared below:
